

KENTUCKY ADDED TO THE TAFT COLUMNS

NATIONAL COMMITTEE VOTES THIRTY-THREE TO ELEVEN IN FAVOR OF PRESIDENT.

Leaders Begin to Arrive to Take Part in the Deliberations of the Pre-Convention Plans.

Chicago, June 11.—The Kentucky contest involving sixteen delegates at large which were under consideration yesterday and all morning at which forty-five members of the committee were present opened at 10:15. It was agreed that in the first, second and fourth districts the two delegates in each be submitted and acted upon as in the case of the delegates at large.

Mr. McFarland made the following statement for the Roosevelt forces and Judge E. C. O'Hair of Frankfort, opened the debate on the two contests for delegates at large.

The Roosevelt contestants for the place of delegate at large, only two in each it was decided were entitled to four seats in the national convention.

The Kentucky delegates at large, four delegates were credited to Taft by a vote of 38 to 11.

Gov. Herbert S. Hindley of Missouri arrived this morning. He is to argue the Missouri contest before the national committee. Should the Roosevelt forces control the convention he is believed to be their choice for temporary chairman and the position of floor leader.

It is said that a possible candidate for vice-president nomination would be Senator Borah of Idaho. Senator Borah positively refused to be considered in that light of a possible future president of the senate.

Senator Kenyon who found it necessary to go to Washington said that Iowa was coming in on every train to boom the cause of Senator Cummings.

While sending four delegates at large and delegates from the first district of Kentucky, all credited to President Taft, the republican national committee added six votes to the temporary roll call of the convention in favor of the President, and a foreboding action which will add more contested seats from that state to President Taft.

Of the two sets of delegates at large and the committee preparing at one-fifteen o'clock to vote on contests in the Second and Fourth districts, the vote was fifty-three to nothing in favor of the contestants in these three districts and the delegates at large decided in favor of the President. The contestants determined to make the committee deliberations. After the conclusion of the first, second and fourth districts, there remained to be considered the contests in the Seventh, Eighth, and Tenth and Eleventh districts.

Much action promised today in both the Taft and Roosevelt headquarters was due to a greater part of the expected arrival of William Barnes, Jr., of New York, at the president's camp, and Governor Hindley of Missouri at the former's executive headquarters.

The leaders planned a lively welcome for Barnes, planning to open the president's suite in the Congress hotel and have the president's representative hold an informal meeting. The New York leader, Barnes, is to begin early to attempt to strengthen the candidacy of Senator Root for temporary and permanent chairman of the convention.

The Taft forces were in jovial spirits today following the victorious fight of yesterday which resulted in the sending of the contested delegate in Indiana for the president. Only optimistic views of the future contests were heard among the Taft forces.

Roosevelt's campaign was welcomed the coming of Governor Hindley as one of the original seven governors who urged the former president to make the race and one whose name has been mentioned frequently as a probable running mate of Roosevelt who came was in demand.

The supporters of Roosevelt held a conference last night which lasted until the early hours this morning but what was discussed none of those present would tell.

Senator Borah and other national committee men who yesterday voted for the seating of Taft delegates in Indiana participated in the meeting.

When William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the New York republican state central committee and delegate at large to the convention arrived they went into conference immediately with Senators Crane of Massachusetts, Senators Nowell and Sanders of Tennessee, Gleason of New York and other leaders of the political forces.

Mr. Barnes is looked upon as the possible floor leader in the convention and there is a likelihood that he will take part in the deliberations of the national committee upon the contested delegates at large. He declared that his chief object at this time was to aid in the confirmation of Senator Root of New York as temporary chairman of the convention.

"Practically all the New York ninety delegates will vote for Senator Root," said Mr. Barnes, "and I have no doubt but that he will be selected."

Mr. Barnes took possession of a suite of rooms on the floor below the political headquarters.

is Decided. Mobile, Ala., June 11.—"I am going to vote for Roosevelt if they chop my head off," declared Postmaster Byron Trannell of Daphne, representative of that delegation. He is one of the two delegates to the Chicago convention from this state in favor of voting for Roosevelt. The other is Postmaster J. B. Daugherty of Geneva, both from the third district.

MISS MARJORIE IDE WEDS ENGLISH NOBLE

Daughter of United States Minister to Spain Married to Shane Leslie This Afternoon.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 11.—A special train conveyed the guests from this city this afternoon to Port Washington, N. Y., for the wedding of Miss Marjorie Ide and Shane Leslie. The bride is the daughter of Henry C. Ide, United States minister to Spain, and a sister of Mrs. W. Bourke Cockran, at whose home, the wedding took place. Mr. Leslie, the bridegroom, is a son of Colonel and Mrs. Leslie of London and a grandson of Sir John and Lady Constance Leslie of Ireland and of the late Leonard Jerome of this city. Father Carroll, rector of the Church of St. Peter of Alcantara at Port Washington, performed the marriage ceremony. Among the ushers were Congressman Nicholas Longworth, Norman de R. Whitehouse, and Finley P. Dunne, the writer.

LA FOLLETTE LEADER UPHOLDS COMMITTEE

Rogers of Wisconsin, Member of National Committee, Says Every Contest Has Been Decided on Merits.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 11.—Reservation of judgment on the republican national committee's disposal of delegate contests was asked in an unexpected quarter today. Alfred T. Rogers, the Wisconsin congressman whose devotion to La Follette has caused him to be designated the only impartial member of the republican managing body in the Taft-Roosevelt controversy, made the plea in the course of an interview in which he gave a review of the committee's procedure.

Without qualifying his statement in the slightest, he declared that up to date every contest, even the Ninth Alabama, has been decided on its merits. The much advertised steam roller has not put in its appearance as yet, he said, although the Taft forces have a solid enough majority on the committee to run full speed about it if they so desire.

Voted For Taft. Greater surprise was occasioned by the Wisconsin committee's attitude by the mistaken report which gained currency that he had been voting consistently with the Roosevelt minority.

"I voted to seat the Taft delegates in the Ninth Alabama district, and I may say that in every case so far the committee has decided, in my judgment, according to the merits of the case," he declared.

"No contest has as yet been perfectly clear on either side. We have had steam rollers in plenty in Wisconsin and recognize them when we see them. They use a majority control to hammer a program through regardless of merit. This may be done at some time during the remaining sessions of the committee. I am not prophet, I am saying merely that it has not been done as yet."

The Wisconsin committee's attitude showed no dissent at being classed as a "political brand" along with the Taft adherents on the committee. He was shown the statement in the course of which Roosevelt asserted that "again and again we have sent to the penitentiary election officials for deeds morally not one whit worse."

Reply to Roosevelt. "I am not much for the colored when it comes to picturesque abuse," he said. "As for the substance in that remark, it is composed entirely of hot air."

"As a matter of fact there was no very great moral on either side in any of the Alabama cases. There were reasonable grounds for an honest difference of opinion as to which had a better title to seats in the convention."

"In such a situation the party organization must always be considered as a factor. The burden of proof must necessarily rest with the delegates outside the regular organization and unless the outsiders' case is very plain indeed it is natural that they should be rejected."

Attacks Memorial Day Desecrations

Commander Hiram J. Smith, in Address to State Encampment, Scores Unpatriotic Demonstrations.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Antigo, Wis., June 11.—"The desecration of Memorial day is a matter of national protest," said Department Commander Hiram J. Smith, Wisconsin Grand Army of the Republic, of Racine, in his annual address before the state encampment, which opened here today.

Continuing, he said: "The interest in the observance increases each year and at the same time certain classes ignore the sacredness of the day. Two weeks ago 75,000 people gathered at Indianapolis to witness an automobile race. It is easy to imagine that the Memorial day exercises were of secondary consideration in that town. This episode is but an exaggerated example of what is a common occurrence in the length and breadth of the land. However, it is proper to note that elaborate observances by the regular G. A. R. and allied organizations generally prevailed."

CUBAN REVOLUTION BECOMING QUIETER SAY LATE REPORTS

Blue Jackets, However, Landed to Protect American Interests in the Interior.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Havana, June 10.—The government has received no dispatches pertaining to news in the province of Oriente. During the night the police made several arrests of negroes for conspiracy.

Visits Gomez. Admiral Osterhaus, commander-in-chief of the United States Atlantic Fleet, prepared today to pay a visit to Secretary of State, Senator Sangre, and President Gomez. No news of disturbances have come to hand.

Blue Jackets Ashore. Santiago, June 11.—The United States gun boat Nashville today landed a detachment of sixty-five blue jackets for the protection of the Woodard mines. The latter will be replaced by Moros.

To Maintain Order. Washington, June 11.—The absence of any fresh outbreak in Havana has encouraged the state department in the belief that the measures taken to show the purpose of this government to maintain order in Cuba, has been sufficient.

No More Vessels. It has been decided that there will be no addition to the naval force now in Cuban waters unless something unexpected makes it necessary. Rear Admiral Trask, now at Key West, will remain there for the present with the battleships, New Jersey and Nebraska.

More Rebels. General Yonnet, with seven hundred insurgents, is said to be cornered about twelve miles from Sagua de Tanamo, on the north coast of the province of Oriente. This information was received here through the American legation at Havana. It is believed that the negro revolution in the Oriente province will be short-lived.

Troops Vigilant. Santiago, Cuba, June 11.—The town of Mayrui is well protected by a force of 300 volunteers and regulars. A column composed of 200 regular soldiers are operating in the vicinity of the town. A number of troops under Captain Gellera brought a guide into town today with a number of cars cut from negroes' hands. He was arrested and will be tried by court martial.

ERUPTION REPORTED OF ALASKA VOLCANO VERY TRAGIC DEATH

Several Villages Buried Under Foot of Ashes Causing Intense Suffering—No Lives Lost.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Tokale, Alaska, June 9.—(Via tug to seaward) June 11.—The Khabuk and Woody Islands and villages are buried under a foot of ashes as a result of the eruption of the Katmai Volcano beginning Thursday afternoon and lasting thirty-eight hours. No lives have been lost here but many other settlements near the volcano must have suffered indescribably.

The revenue-cutter Manning was in port here when the eruption began and furnished refuge for all the inhabitants of the town, five hundred men women and children, doubtless, saving many lives. The Manning is now sending distilled waters and government rations to the destitute people, the water supply having been polluted and the springs filled with ashes.

Measures for the relief of the volcano sufferers on Kodiak and Woody Islands will be discussed at the conference today between President Taft and acting-Secretary Curtis of the treasury department. It is expected that an emergency appropriation will be made. According to advices received from Captain Terry of the revenue cutter Manning, the condition of the sufferers in St. Paul and Woody Island villages must be terrible.

The country is buried under a foot or more of ashes, pumice stones and hot sand in the vicinity of the volcano and the havoc wrought by the eruption of Mt. Katmai, southeast of Kodiak Island, is believed to have been greater than was at first reported.

Great damage has been done on the western side of the island adjoining the main land on which the volcano is located.

Showers of Ashes. Fairbanks, Alaska, June 11.—A shower of ashes is falling here and the sun is obscured. Heavy conningham can be heard in the foothills of the Alaska range and scores of people are arriving here from the south. The sounds come from the direction of Mount Hayes.

Family Was Living in a Cave on Lake

Hunter Comes Back From Hunt With Remarkable Story of 'Cave-dwellers' on Shores of Lake Putira, Minn.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Buhl, Minn., June 11.—David Wakefield came to the village today after spending the past few weeks hunting big game bringing back a story of a family termed "cave dwellers" on the banks of the Putira Lake forty miles from Buhl.

Mr. Wakefield was emerging from the top of an embankment and he saw smoke, which resulted in the discovery of the family. The man gave his name as James Hill and stated that following a fire, which destroyed his log house a year ago he dug in the hillsides and found the opening into three rooms. Beds have been constructed from boughs and he appears to constitute the mattress. Over the spears they have placed dried bear skins. Some animals play about the opening of the cave.

The home is kept fairly clean by the mother and daughter. Neither of them have been to town since going into the homestead seven years ago. The children are brought up in ignorance.

Continuing, he said: "The interest in the observance increases each year and at the same time certain classes ignore the sacredness of the day. Two weeks ago 75,000 people gathered at Indianapolis to witness an automobile race. It is easy to imagine that the Memorial day exercises were of secondary consideration in that town. This episode is but an exaggerated example of what is a common occurrence in the length and breadth of the land. However, it is proper to note that elaborate observances by the regular G. A. R. and allied organizations generally prevailed."

EXCELLENT RECITAL AT BLIND INSTITUTE

Numbers in Annual Commencement Musical Program Given With Exceptional Finish and Correctness.

An hour and a half of unalloyed pleasure and keen appreciation was experienced by all who heard the annual commencement recital at the Wisconsin State School for the Blind last evening. All numbers were given with a finish and exactness that would be creditable to experienced musicians, and when this handicap is taken into consideration the accomplishments of the students are little short of marvelous. The auditorium was filled to its capacity, and the audience would have demanded an encore of each participant in the program had they been permitted.

The twenty-three piece orchestra played two overtures, both selections with very difficult instrumentation and involved themes, and by its almost faultless time and harmony indicated long-continued practice under the direction of their instructor, Mr. H. D. Adams.

The violin solo by Frederick Ehler was one of the most enthusiastically received numbers on the program. His delicate touch, excellent technique, and perfect control of the bow were effectively demonstrated in the number he played. His skill as a piano player is almost equal to that as a violinist.

William Hanson played a cornet solo that was received with great applause, his accompanist being Mr. Adams. The pipe organ number, "The Village Harvest Home," by Miss Martha Messner, was much appreciated by the lovers of that instrument.

Miss Lillie Lohry, for some time known as one of the most talented pupils at the Blind School, enhanced her reputation last night with her rendition of the lullaby "Lullaby," with violin-obligato by Mr. Ehler. Miss Blanche Cornell was a pianist, and the Blanche Agnes Hart and Little Mame Hard also won merited applause. "Largo," sung by a male quartette, brought out the full and rich melody of that selection. The program as given follows:

Part I.
Overture—"Fra Diavolo".....Auber
Orchestra.

Vocal Solo—Cavatina (With Violin Obligation).....Hoff
Jeanette Bentzner.

Vocal Solo—"My Heart Ever Faithful".....Bach
Agnes Hart.

Piano—La Lullade.....Lysberg
Frederick Ehler.

Vocal Solo—"Oh, Would I Know Where Lies the Way".....Brahms
Hattie Menzies.

Cornet Solo—"Polka".....Stonhauser
William Hanson.

Part II.
Organ Solo—"The Village Harvest Home".....Sphynx
Martha Messner.

Vocal Solo—"Lullaby from 'Lullaby' (With Violin Obligation).....Godard
Lillie Lohry.

Violin Solo—"Souvenir de Hadyan".....Leonard
Frederick Ehler.

Piano Solo—"Liebestraum".....Liszt
Blanche Cornell.

Male Quartette—"Largo"—"Peaceful Night".....Handel
Overture—"William Tell".....Rossini
Orchestra.

The class play will be given this evening at the school. It is Shakespeare's "The Tempest." On Wednesday morning at 10:00 o'clock the Commencement program will be given.

This evening "The Tempest" will be produced, with the following cast of characters: Prospero, F. Joseph Grohner; Antonio, John Kostuch; Alonzo, Thomas Butterworth; Sebastian, Alphonse J. Montag; Ferdinand, William M. Hansen; Gonzalo, Philip Hanson; Caliban, Joseph Mansfield; Trinculo, Donald McKinnon; Stephano, Edward Rauch; Ariel, Hattie Menzies; Miranda, Jeanette Bentzner; Spirits, Accompanists, Solos and choruses: Miss Louise E. Harkins, Miss Blanche Cornell. Orchestral teacher—Mr. H. A. Adams.

Tomorrow at ten the following graduation exercises will be held: Overture—"Morning, Noon and Night".....Suppo

Orchestra.

Invocation—Rev. J. W. Laughlin.
Organ Solo—Nuptial March.....Bernard
Blanche Cornell.
Many—Jane Adams and Hattie Hanson.
Dorothy La. Quide.
Double Trio—"Water Nymphs".....Hullstien
Address—Lynn S. Pease.
Violin Duo—Symphonie Concertante.....Dancila
Frederick Ehler and Joseph Grohner.
Presentation of Diplomas—Mr. Ralph E. Smith, President Board of Control.
Chorus—"Hrooks Shall Murnur".....Van Bree
Orchestra—Coronation March.....Meyorbeer

ALUMNI PLAN GOOD TIME AT BANQUET

Many Graduates of Janesville High School Will Attend Annual Party Friday Evening.

On Friday night, in the gymnasium of the high school building, the annual banquet of the Alumni, at which the members of the graduating class will be welcomed by the older graduates, will be held. The officers of the Alumni association have been arranging the details of the affair, and the banquet gives promise of being a most successful affair ever held with a large crowd of the Alumni in attendance. The officers have been striving to arouse enthusiasm in the banquet, and feel that their efforts will be well rewarded. A three course dinner will be served, with a short program following, and the rest of the evening will be given over to dancing. The class of 1907 it is expected, will hold a reunion at the banquet. The menu will be as follows:

Fruit Cocktail.....Wafers
Creamed Potatoes.....Hot Rolls
Holland Croquettes.....Cheese Balls
Radishes.....Oysters
Ice Cream.....Cake.....Candy

The following program has been arranged for the evening:

Welcome.....Frank D. Hayes, Pres. Alumni
Response for Class of 1912.....President
Bottoms Kelly, Secretary
Violin Solo.....Miss Will. Sowerhill
"After Four Years".....William H. Spohn
Remarks.....Hank Lyman, Glee Club
Song.....Class of 1912
Class Song.....Alumni Dance

Some sentiment has been expressed among the alumni in this city in favor of an annual dance to be given during the holidays in one of the halls in this city. The proposition has met with general favor with those among whom it has been discussed, and there is a strong possibility of such an affair becoming an annual event, as well as the banquet at the close of the school year. It is felt that a party of that sort would promote a feeling of good will and friendliness among all the graduates, would aid the older graduates in becoming better acquainted with those of more recent years, and would engender a feeling of fellowship.

VOTE IMPROVEMENTS FOR MILWAUKEE AVE.

Council at Meeting This Afternoon Received from Macadam Street From Harrison to Carfield.

Improvement of Milwaukee avenue from the easterly side of Harrison street to the westerly side of Carfield avenue by macadamizing and laying curbs and gutters at the expense of the real estate owners was resolved upon by the City Council at its meeting this afternoon. The Superintendent of streets was directed to repair with brick the intersection of Milton and Milwaukee avenues with Milwaukee street, the repairing to commence at the end of the present brick pavement and to extend to the crosswalks running from the intersection of Milwaukee and Milton avenues to the easterly side of East avenue.

The Council directed the Superintendent of Streets to serve notice on the owners of the south 20 feet of block No. 42, original plat, also strip of land 14 feet wide south of and adjoining block 42, old plat, to build standard cement walks. Similar notice was ordered served on the owners of lot 4 in block 23, old plat, the lot fronting on the east side of North Main street.

Six women residents of the ward presented a petition requesting that the city prevent the operations of the patent carpet cleaner used by Mr. Messner. Complaint is made that the machine fills the air with dust and that this endangers the health of the neighborhood.

Frank McKinnon asked permission to transfer his saloon license for 506 West Milwaukee street to F. P. Cronk. The report of the Municipal Court for the month of May was presented and accepted. Bills for the usual materials and services totaling $1,490.32 were accepted and the Clerk directed to draw orders for their payment.

DOG-FISH NEARLY CAUSES FATAL ACCIDENT ON SUNDAY

A powerful blow delivered by David Drummond in trying to kill a ten-pound dogfish caught by Wm. Pouchelon at Lake Koshongong Sunday, nearly brought about a serious accident, when the dog slipped and the force of the blow knocked loose a board in the bottom of the boat in which they were fishing. The two young men, with William Holbe and Albert Schaefer of this city were at the lake Sunday, and spent the day fishing. In the afternoon Pouchelon landed a huge dogfish, and Drummond, disgusted, struck at it. The loosed board immediately started a leak and the boat filled rapidly. Master Schaefer was placed in a passing boat, while the others "stuck to the ship." By dint of hard labor on the part of Holbe and Pouchelon in bailing out the boat, and Drummond pulling the oars with all his might the crew reached the shore safely.

Get What You Want

By W. C. Kenaga.

When you buy groceries and other household needs do you ask for advertised lines?

Do so and you will find a greater satisfaction in your housekeeping.

Whenever a good article is brought out and extensively advertised a number of "near-like" articles soon make their appearance. As a rule the "near-like" goods resemble the original outwardly, but are so made that their makers make a long profit through the advertising of the original article.

The advertised goods are guaranteed—the others you buy at your own risk. Why should you risk anything after paying for commodities?

If you have not been in the habit of doing it try it this week. Don't merely say "soap," but name the particular soap you have seen advertised and want. Do this with soap, hose, clothes, collars, etc. Demand and receive advertised goods.

Whatever is worthy of your money is worthy of a maker's backing. Insist on advertised goods and you'll get them, for there are plenty of merchants in Janesville who want to sell them to you.

Jack Johnson has a very modest opinion of himself. Recently, in discussing his proposal to retire from the ring Labor Day and his plan to meet one fighter every week from July 4 until that time, he said: "I'm like Alexander—the Great—I'm too good. There isn't anyone else to fight that's worth a whoop. After July 4, I expect to meet red, white, blue or black—hoping, one a week. That means Sam Langford, too, but Sam will have to put up a side bet. I don't like that man and I want his money."

Janesville Athletic Club Plan for Excellent Card for Eagles' Convention Week.

Tim McKelue, Thomas Abbott and Herman Bugge, the committee of the Janesville Athletic club having charge of the big boxing entertainment for Wednesday, June 13th, during the Eagles' convention week, announce they have completed their all star card. "Kid" Lopper of Cleveland, a speedy youngster, is matched with Kid DeStump, the Delvidore scrapper, and will prove a good card to draw to. Freddy Andrews of Milwaukee will be here to meet Kid Troubles of Chicago. Troubles is already here doing his preliminary training stunts and is in fine fettle. Charles Neary of Milwaukee, meets Jack Hendricks of Chicago, and young Cox of this city, a corner in ring work, will take on Young Cross of Detroit. Taking it all in all it is a very evenly balanced card.

SIX COUPLES WILL BE MARRIED SOON

Plans for Twelve Young People of This City Announced at Services at Catholic Churches on Sunday.

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriages of six couples of Janesville young people whose weddings will take place within the next three weeks. The lists of each couple were called at the Catholic churches in this city on Sunday. The engagements thus announced were: Miss Julia Thompson and Dr. W. H. McGuire; Miss Harriet Guggen and William Brown; Miss Little Hoganey and William N. Nelson; Elizabeth Ames Burko and Edward P. Dillon; Anna Mary Engel and Bernard Mahery; and Hannah Holiz and Weitzel Puder. The last-named couple will be married next Monday.

requested to step into a room where officials of the Casino were awaiting him. He was told that it would be necessary to withdraw his card of admission for it had been ascertained that he had been cheating.

"Impossible," exclaimed the American, "I have been playing with nothing but half sovereigns and, putting his hand into his pocket, he drew forth a handful of them and spread them out on his palm before the officials. 'There were fifteen new Lincoln pennies in the collection,'

"Exactly," said the officials, "you have been passing these for half sovereigns."

"The American was non-plussed. Explanations didn't go, and it was not until he reached home that he discovered that his daughter of eight, while in America had made a collection of bright new Lincoln pennies and finding she could not spend them anywhere, and, being of taking care of them had slipped them in her father's pocket. The similarity between the two coins is marked. They are of exactly the same size and each carries a head which at first glance presents little difference in design. The half sovereign is milled and the penny is not. There is now a notice posted in the Casino that a certain American will redeem all Lincoln pennies with half sovereigns.

"This little story is told by a financial paper. The Lincoln penny has a limited coinage and the design was so attractive that the whole issue was soon picked up as souvenirs. The government is urged to renew the coinage of the old-fashioned three cent piece, but objection is made, especially by the city churches, on the claim that they will take the place of nickels, on the collection plate, and thus affect the revenue.

The nation has never produced two public men who enjoyed the confidence of the people so far as honesty and personal honor is concerned. To larger extent than President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt. They have been criticised along other lines, but no question has ever been raised as to their integrity and high moral character, yet today these men are denouncing each other as dishonest and corrupt. When the battle is over, and the smoke clears away, they will both discover that the game wasn't worth the powder.

The beauties of the rousaboutment are recognized when the fact is considered that a dozen houses are offered for sale at less than the assessed valuation. One of these residences was sold a few days ago for $800 less than it was taxed for. It is safe to say that there are but few pieces of property in the city that could be sold under the most favorable circumstances for the taxable price. There are several laws besides the income tax that need revamping.

The Chicago Tribune predicts all kinds of calamities to the republican party, in case Roosevelt is not nominated. "The world's greatest newspaper" may be all that it claims from a news standpoint, but its republicanism has been a standing joke for many years. The paper has no claims on the party. Should Colonel Roosevelt fall of nomination, and decline to both, the Tribune would be his standard bearer.

After all expenses are paid there won't be money enough left to fund a gun, from the income tax receipts, and yet the law is the best thing that has happened to the state in a decade because it has aroused a lot of hypnotized people who had become infatuated with a magnetic leader. It is time to come down from the clouds and discover where we are at and how we got there.

If all of the republican presidential candidates have a platform as long as the one to be presented by the Wisconsin aspirant, the convention will be well supplied with platform timber. If there is any particular reason why Senator La Follette should dictate a platform to the national party, it don't appear on the surface. He has had but little to do with the party for many moons.

Will Colonel Roosevelt come to Chicago to engineer his own campaign? Is the question just now keeping the contending forces guessing. It might be well to remember that the colonel is out to win. When he throws his hat into the ring he won't in after it, and with everything to win and nothing to lose he will be on hand in Chicago before the convention is called.

Wisdom from Spain.
Doller go to bed supperless than rise in debt.—Spanish Proverb.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remediation. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it has a tendency to close, and hearing is lost. When it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous lining.

We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by local Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By Roy K. Moulton.

She talks to us in learned style of problems small and problems great.

Confronting all the human kind, And doesn't even hesitate.

To treat with most familiar air The hoariest affairs of state.

On psychic research and the like She's very apt to scintillate.

The nebular hypothesis, She finds quite easy to relate.

She tells us where we've all been wrong In all our high ideas to date.

And hands out curses for civic life At what seems like a wondrous rate.

For one so young, but still we pay Respect fit for a potentate.

We listen well and then applaud For she's the sweet girl graduate.

Hints to Loveless Cents.
If she makes a practice of eating onions for supper every time you call, it is a sign that she is indifferent toward your suit.

If you spend a lot of money sending flowers to her every day it may make a hit with her, but she will hurry somebody who has more sense.

Don't talk to her about love in a cottage. Talk about the brownstone on bungalow and spring the cottage on her after you get her.

If she is indisposed to tell her about it, and if she can't tell her anyway, have an automobile catalogue in your coat pocket where she can catch a glimpse of it.

According to Uncle Abner.
The difference between a politician and a statesman is that the statesman has got the job and the politician wants it.

Mrs. Anna Jackson says she is sure if all the women in this country would go bareheaded, business conditions would be a good deal better.

She never asked her husband for a new hat yet, but he told her that business was the worst he ever saw it in his life and the whole blame situation was going to smash in about four minutes.

It seems as though somebody could write a show where the hero don't get rich in the last act.

They are rabid a lot of fuss in the east about yaller journals. Any newspaper will get yaller if you have it on the patty shelf long enough.

If there is anything that makes a fellow feel that he is growing old fast it is one of them big calendars that show only one date at a time. Every time he looks at it he has to yank off about five days to catch up.

They Must Make Ananias Jealous.
"Oh, we have had just a delightful time at your party. We want you to come and take dinner with us just as soon as you can."

"Honestly, I think you have got just the cutest baby I have ever seen."

"See, I can sing a lot better than that when I haven't got a cold."

"My husband is just as sweet as he can be around the house. He never gets cross and never scolds when dinner isn't ready and is so neat that a piece of dirt on the carpet almost drives him crazy."

"We expect to spend next summer abroad."

HAVE RAT KILLING BEE IN INDIANA COUNTIES.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Princeton, Ind., June 11.—In accordance with the plan originated by J. R. Strickland, a druggist of Owensville, the citizens inhabiting the first congressional district of Indiana operated today in an attempt to round up and kill as many rats as possible. Many thousands were killed and it is expected that the destruction of these rodents will mean a substantial saving to the farmers and other citizens in the district. Last year 3,000 rats were killed in this county alone, equivalent to a saving of about $22,000 for the year.

A New Old Household Soap

"Old Country" is not a new brand of household soap. It is a new soap, but new only to American housewives. It is the same identical soft green soap which has been a staple—like sugar and butter—in the old countries since 1753.

Now Available for the First Time in America

No amount of money could buy the formula for "Old Country" Green Soap. To be able to make it in America we had to bring over one of the family that first made it in Europe and still makes it. He is our Chief Chemist.

"The Wizard Soap of the World"
Think of a soap that is unequalled in every detail of household cleaning—which is the best for washing and best for scrubbing the kitchen floor.

"Think of a soap which beats any 'special' compound for cleaning porcelain tubs and yet is unexcelled for the most delicate face curatives."

"Think of the only soap which will clean linoleum without cracking it!"

"Think of such strength with purity that makes it positively beneficial for the hands! That's 'Old Country' and more!

ODD FELLOWS BOUGHT THE PHOEBUS BLOCK

JANSVILLE CITY LODGE NO. 90 PURCHASE VALUABLE PROPERTY ON MILWAUKEE STREET.

TO REMODEL BUILDING

Price Paid Said to Be in the Neighborhood of Thirty Thousand Dollars.

With the purchase of the Phoebus block on West Milwaukee street by the Jansville City Lodge No. 90, I. O. O. F., from Captain Piny Norcross at a price said to be thirty thousand dollars, the future home of that lodge is assured and they will shortly begin work of remodeling the upper floor into a commodious lodge room.

The property purchased has a frontage of thirty-two feet on Milwaukee street and runs back one hundred and thirty-nine feet and then turns eastward with a frontage on the alley in the rear of the old Corp property of seventy-six feet. For the present the Odd Fellows will raise the third floor to an equal height all through out, over the one story addition built last year by Captain Norcross for the bond and Bailey company, in a large hall. Later they may utilize the frontage they have on the alley for additional lodge rooms.

The Jansville City Lodge No. 90 has a membership of some two hundred and fifty, and recently purchased the old Fredrickson property further west on Milwaukee street, with a view of building a temple for themselves, but they will now sell this strip of land and improve the Phoebus block.

Last year Captain Norcross completely remodeled the entire building and placed the entrance on the east end. There will be no change in the frontage of the structure, but the third floor will be raised and fitted up for the use of the lodge.

It is also understood that Captain Norcross has had several offers for the purchase of his property on South River street, known as the Norcross block, and a transfer may be expected at almost any time of this valuable store and manufacturing block.

WINNERS ANNOUNCED IN HISTORY CONTEST

Lucy Kellogg of Garfield School Receives First Honors—Helen Travis, Lincoln, Second.

This morning the Judges finished marking the American history papers for the medal donated by the Jansville Chapter D. A. R. The following is their decision: Miss Lucy Kellogg, of the Garfield school first place, Miss Helen Travis of the Lincoln school, second and Herbert Kakuski of the Garfield third. The examination this year was the most closely contested one that has ever been held, and much credit is due all the pupils who were entered. The medal will be presented by Supt. Buell at the opening of the graduation exercises this evening.

TABLEAUX TONIGHT WILL BE ELABORATE

Familiar Characters From Dickens' Novels Will Be Portrayed In Realistic Manner.

Elaborate staging and costuming are planned for the tableaux vivants which will be given by members of the graduating class as part of the class night exercises at the high school auditorium this evening. Over twenty familiar characters from Dickens' novels will be represented in nine different scenes and readings to accompany each scene will be given by Miss Vera Spencer. The arrangement of all the tableaux has been in charge of Mrs. J. B. Day who has also drilled the students in the class play. Especial care has been taken in the selection of the persons for the different roles and costumes have been chosen with the utmost regard for historic correctness according to descriptions in the various novels. Following are the tableaux which will be shown:

1. Dickens in Camp (Old Curiosity Shop).....Senior Boys
2. Little Nell and her Grandfather and Mrs. Jarley (Old Curiosity Shop).....Marion Jenkins
3. Jenny Wren, the Doll's Dress-maker (Our Mutual Friend).....Leah Voltz
4. Dick Swiveler and the Marchioness (Old Curiosity Shop).....Doris Amerholt, Glennie McArthur
5. Bob Cratchit and Tiny Tim (A Christmas Carol).....Leah Voltz
6. Sydney Carton and Lucie Manette (Tale of Two Cities).....Alison Burdick, Florence Crissey
7. David and Nurse Peggotty (David Copperfield).....Leah Voltz, Mary Fisher
8. Tom Pinch and His Sister (Martin Chuzzlewit).....Leta Wilcox, Robert Cunningham
9. Dolly Varden and Her Lover (Harriette Rodgers).....Marion Jenkins, Stanley Muehl

The regular class night features composed the remainder of this evening's program. The various clever skits as the members of class will be greeted with applause by the high school students especially.

Called to Milton: Sheriff E. H. Ransom was called to Milton last evening to aid in the settlement of difficulties between a husband and wife of that village. The trouble arose over money matters. No arrests were made.

FRESH OIL ON STREETS DRIVES CYCLISTS TO WALKS.

Many Complaints Made to Police About Violations of Ordinance.

Harried from streets that had been freshly oiled for their full width, a large number of cyclists took to the sidewalks yesterday afternoon to the annoyance of pedestrians and property owners. Many complaints of the violation of the city ordinance against riding on the walks were telephoned to the police station, and officers visited the vicinity from which they came, but found and arrested no riders. Most of the complaints came from the fourth ward.

ANNUAL GRADUATION OF COUNTY SCHOOLS

Exercises Will Be Held at High School Building in This City

Next Tuesday, June 18.

Arrangements are now being made for the annual graduation exercises for the Rock County rural schools which will be held at the high school building in this city next Tuesday afternoon, June 18, beginning at one o'clock. For special reasons the date which was originally set for June 28, has been changed to the 18th.

The Rev. D. Quincy Grubb, pastor of the Congregational church at Janesville, has been secured to give the address to the graduates on the subject, "Efficient Training." Principal J. J. Law of the Rock County Training school will also speak. A diploma will be presented to some 110 pupils who successfully passed the examination by Miss O. D. Antbold. The list of graduates includes the Milton Junction graded school pupils who finished their course, but does not include the Milton students. Special musical numbers will be a part of the program to which the parents and friends of the graduates are invited. A spelling contest open to rural school students will also be a feature of the event.

In August some thirty additional students will doubtless receive diplomas after completing examinations omitted at the regular date this spring.

PLAN "UNION" BUILDING FOR UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

Alumni Will Be Canvassed For Proposed Building Which is Calculated to Foster Democracy.

Madison, Wis., June 11.—A "Union" building for all of the students of the state university to be built from funds collected among the alumni and former students is the plan that was launched today by Louis P. Lochner, alumni secretary at the university. The idea is to erect the building as a memorial to John D. Bacon, a former president of the state university. Lochner declares that the building of such a structure would forever the charge that the university is losing its democracy and is beginning to exhibit some of the "snobbishness" characteristic of eastern institutions.

"At the present state of development of our Alma Mater," says Mr. Lochner, "a common meeting place for the thousands of engineers, law men, 'hill' men, 'medics,' 'agricults,' and music students is not only desirable, but imperative."

RESPECTED CITIZEN DIES AT EDGERTON

Henry Maraden, for Sixty-eight Years a Resident of This Section, Passed Away Yesterday.

Edgerton, June 11.—Henry Maraden, an aged and highly respected citizen, coming to this section sixty-eight years ago, passed peacefully away at his residence in this city yesterday morning about eleven o'clock, the immediate cause of his death being general debility. He had been confined to his bed less than two weeks.

The deceased was born March 14, 1832, in Derbyshire, England, and came to America with his parents in 1844, settling in Albion township. He was graduated from Bailey & Lincoln's Business Commercial college in 1857, and for three years spent his time farming in the summer and teaching school in winter. In Albion township he was quite prominent, serving as member of the town board for two years and later as chairman, and also as assessor.

In 1861 he was married to Miss Margaret C. Whitel, a native of Scotland, the marriage taking place in Janesville. The couple resided on the farm up to twenty-five years ago when they retired and moved to this city. Soon after his arrival here he became a partner of the lumber firm of J. D. Whitel & company, and later was associated with Henry Elbert in the implement business.

Besides the widow four children survive, being Charles of Mitchell, South Dakota; Mrs. Margaret Conn of this city; Dr. Arthur Maraden of Ill., and Marvin Maraden, also of this city. He also leaves three brothers: John of South Dakota; Joseph, of Sumner; and Sam, of Albion Prairie; and one sister, Mrs. Sam Tall of Albion Prairie.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at the late home at 1:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. P. W. Schoenfeld, and the remains will be taken to the Albion Prairie cemetery for interment. For many years the family were members of the Primitive Methodist church at that place.

Full of life and honors and a kind husband and father his memory will never be forgotten by all who knew him.

Edgerton-News Notes.
Miss Loretta, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hubbert, was tendered a surprise last evening at her home on the occasion of her fourteenth birthday. A pleasant company of fifteen young people were present and enjoyed the evening in games, music, etc., and at the proper hour a dainty luncheon followed. Miss Loretta was the recipient of numerous gifts in memory of the event.

Rev. and Mrs. G. K. MacInnis went to Stouten this morning to spend the day.

Miss Josephine Keller left today for Appleton to attend the commencement exercises of Lawrence college. Mrs. M. J. Schmidt and mother, Mrs. Clark, were Madison visitors yesterday.

UNIDENTIFIED BODY NOT THOS. MONAHAN

Relatives of Missing Janesville Man Learn Fears Are Unfounded On Examining Remains.

The presence of an unidentified corpse in the Milwaukee morgue whose description tallied closely with that of Thomas Monahan, who recently left this city, led his relatives to fear that he might have been the unfortunate man who was killed by a train in that city several days ago.

To learn the truth of the matter his cousin, Mrs. Fred Townsend of this city, accompanied by her husband, and George Monahan of Harmony and Melbourne of Milton Junction, went to Milwaukee to examine the corpse and had the good fortune to find that it was not the body of their relative.

Monahan worked at the Vador Porch Shade Company's factory before leaving Janesville and a short time ago went to Antigo, Wis., afterward he wrote that he was coming home, and it happened that he should have been in Milwaukee when the unclaimed young man was killed. It is thought that Monahan had gone to visit his father in Michigan.

Harper Memorial Library Dedicated at University.

Chicago, Ill., June 11.—The new Harper Memorial Library, erected in memory of Dr. William Harper, late president of the University of Chicago, was dedicated today in connection with the eighty-third convocation of the university. The dedication was accompanied by interesting ceremonies in which many noted educators, librarians and others participated. Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, President Pratt Jackson of the university, and Dr. James B. Angell of the University of Michigan were the principal speakers. At the convocation exercises this afternoon the address was delivered by Franklin Mac Vaughn, Secretary of the Treasury.

Commencement Exercises at Princeton University.

Princeton, N. J., June 11.—The class of 1912, numbering more than 200 members, received their degrees at the one hundred and sixty-sixth annual commencement of Princeton University at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

The diplomas were presented by President H. H. H. Alexander Hall. The academic procession formed as usual in front of Nassau Hall and proceeded to Alexander Hall, led by President H. H. H. and the trustees, the recipients of the higher degrees and the graduating class following. The program for the remainder of the day included the election of alumni trustees, the alumni luncheon in the gymnasium, a swimming exhibition in the Brookh Pool, and the President's reception.

"Shurtleff's Purity"-the Healthful Summer Food

Much has been said of late in the columns of newspapers on what to eat and what not to eat during the summer months. Veal is to be tabooed, tomatoes are said to be heating and other articles of food which we love to eat during the hot weather are recommended for banishment from our daily bills of fare.

What shall we do? There's one easy way out that we see—

You can safely give your children all the "Shurtleff's Purity" they want to eat

Because this is pure ice cream. Just plain ever-day rich cream, pure sugar and flavoring extracts, that are put together in the proper proportions by a master ice cream maker and delivered to you at your home or served to you at tables and counters almost everywhere in Janesville every day in the week.

Government reports recommend ice cream. Col. Goethals, the United States officer in charge of work on the Panama canal, says in a recent report: "More than 600 gallons of ice cream are consumed daily by our workmen on the canal zone. This is not sufficient to supply the demand, and we are installing two more huge freezers. The use of ice cream is encouraged by the government on account of its food value and its refreshing effect upon the men."

"Shurtleff's Purity" as pure and cold as the frozen north and sold by all dealers in Janesville

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

THOMAS JEFFERSON AS AN INVENTOR.

By A. W. MACY.
 Thomas Jefferson was an inventor as well as a statesman. While traveling in Europe he was struck with the waste of power caused by the bad construction of the plows in common use. The mould-board, which throws the dirt over, appeared to him to be the chief source of trouble. He set to work to design one which should offer a minimum of resistance, and sent one of his perfected plows to the Royal Agricultural Society of the Seine. The judges were impressed with its merits, and awarded it a medal. Jefferson also invented the revolving chair, which his political enemies said facilitated his looking all ways at once.

DESCRIPTION OF THE
NEW WEBSTERIAN 1912 DICTIONARY ILLUSTRATED
 With Latest United States Census

This most convenient and latest of all Dictionaries is based on Noah Webster's Dictionary printed from new type and profusely illustrated in color, is revised and brought right up to 1912 by the most recent American and English authorities, designed to meet every demand of a modern and reliable Dictionary.

It includes all words in the English language that do not properly belong to a Dictionary of Technical Terms. In fact, its recent publication and careful revision by the greatest authorities in the world enable it to define and treat a large number of words of recent coinage that cannot be found in any other Dictionary, no matter how cumbersome and pretentious.

Surprising results are obtained in looking up the spelling, pronunciation and definition of a host of words which have been incorporated into our language only yesterday, as it were. Take, for instance: Volplane, Acrobatic, Pylon, Cavitation, Alphas, etc., introduced as a result of recent aeronautical activity—also such new words as: Brimstone, Billiken, Cordite, Denatured, Dumfries, Joy Ride, etc.—also Okapi, an animal allied to the Giraffe, and brought into prominence through ex-President Roosevelt's explorations in Africa—also Hookworm, Lettigran, Nictolodeon, Stovaine, Hanger Equilibrium, etc.

Thus the evidences of painstaking and up-to-date compilation are found on every hand.

The Graduate Who Is Headed Toward Success

ALl over the land, thousands of graduates are pouring out of schools and colleges. A steady stream of those who have finished their school life will flow forth this month. Some are headed toward success, others are headed toward failure.

Many things will contribute to the success or the failure. But one sure element in each there will be. There is no chance about this. The graduate can tell even now whether she will succeed or fail, so far as this factor has influence.

For the graduate who says in reference to whatever work she may take up, "How can I do this the best?" is headed toward success. The one who asks herself, "How can I do this the easiest?" is setting out on the road to failure.

The first will be the efficient worker; the second, the inefficient. It means hard work. It means study, analysis, concentration, alertness. The mind must ever be on the lookout both to work well and to be economical of time or cost. The efficient worker also takes care of herself physically, so that she is always at her best for her work.

Inefficiency thinks only enough of the work in hand to get through with it without a reprimand or a fine. Inefficiency works with an eye on the clock or the forewoman, and the thoughts on the "date" for the evening, or the Saturday afternoon half holiday. The inefficient worker is full of excuses, either to himself, the folks at home or the manager. "What's the use of killing yourself," he says to himself. "It's pull and bluff, nowadays, in business," he tells the family as the reason for his not getting on. And the excuse he hands his employer as he does inventing excuses for negligence and mistakes, he would be transferred at once to the efficient class.

And it is easy to be seen which is the happy worker. The graduate who chooses efficiency for her slogan will not only add a sure element of success to her equipment, but she is adding also an important factor for happiness in her work. For no one can work thoroughly or earnestly without getting a need of satisfaction from such work. There is a certain something in every one's make-up that finds enjoyment in work well done.

So, as the graduate steps forth from her alma mater, let her consider a little this question of efficiency. Some graduates may even now be considering the question of the easiest way to earn their living. But if they go to their work in this spirit they will in the end have chosen the hardest part. For they will not be a success and they will not be happy in their work. Whereas, if one is happy in his work, and is making a success of it, no work is hard. So, plan to be efficient, not inefficient. Plan to do the most you can, not the least you can. And you will not only add a sure element of success and happiness to your work, but you will help in the forward march of the world.

Heart and Home Problems

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are two girls of fourteen and fifteen. We would like you to tell us whether you think we are too young to be escorted home from school, and church on Sunday evenings, and to have callers at the house. We have a boy friend of whom we think very much, so we thought we would ask you what you think about it. And will you please tell us how we can find out whether or not he likes us? Your true friends.

GARNE and LITTLE. Dear girls, I can see no harm in a boy walking home with you from school or church. Just be sensible and good natured and true to your selves, which means that you will not allow any flattery or indignities that will lose the respect of any man. You will know that your friend likes you if he seeks your company, if he likes to visit you in your home, and if he talks to you in friendly confidence that you will understand him and sympathize with him. There is no objection to your having boys visit at your home as long as they do not come as lovers. You had, both better wait a few years before permitting this.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I would like to visit a pony farm. Can you tell me where there is one? There is a large Shetland pony farm near Kalamazoo, Mich. I do not recall the name of the man who runs it, but if you will address a letter to the postmaster at Kalamazoo, Mich., it will undoubtedly reach the right place.

One Way. Would you be stunned? Then tell people things for their own good.

EATING A LITTLE OFTEN VS. FULL MEALS.

The question whether it is better to eat a little at a meal and eat often or to eat a few full meals, is one that cannot be answered absolutely. There are cases in which the former plan, temporarily at least, is better, and it would not be wise for an old person who has been all his life in the habit of eating five meals, as is the custom among the well-to-do classes in England, or a larger number, as in Germany, to suddenly adopt the two-meal plan. Nature requires time for adjustment, especially in the fundamental habit of eating, and more harm may be done by suddenly making an improvement than by continuing in the old way. Old people should make few changes and cautiously. Western, the pedestrian, eats twice daily, at ten and five p.m.

The KITCHEN CABINET

WHATEVER our station in life may be, those of us who mean to fulfill our duty ought, first, to live on as little as we can, and secondly, to do all the wholesome work we can and to spend all we can spare in doing all the good we can.

HOUSEHOLD APPLIANCES.

The number of household appliances which are on the market are growing in number daily. A good agent will make a susceptible housewife feel that life without his special article will be a barren waste and not worth living.

These household conveniences, so-called, are made mostly to sell and in the wise woman who can quickly decide as to its usefulness. Is it a labor saver and a good investment?

It usually takes more skill to use an appliance for saving labor than it does to continue with the old-time methods.

Many of our helpful appliances are excellent helpers in a large family which, in a smaller one, would be only a nuisance. A turkey roaster to be used once or twice a year is a doubtful investment; its room is better than its company.

If a household appliance saves a housekeeper's time and strength, giving her time for rest and open recreation, it is money well spent.

In how many farm homes where money is spent lavishly for farm machinery do we find a flawless cooker, a bread mixer, an up-to-date washing machine or a motor to run both the washer and the sewing machine? The farmer spends hundreds of dollars on his work, where the wife has one. She must wait on and feed one or two hired men; he needs and must have help, while she cares for the children and often is asked to come out and help in the fields. Is it any wonder that our insane asylums are largely filled by farmers' wives?

It is better economy to buy a few labor-saving devices than to pay doctor bills. For a large family a steam cooker is a great saving of time and fuel, a whole dinner for a dozen may be cooked in it over one burner of a gasoline stove.

A gasoline or blue flame stove should be in every country home for use in hot weather where gas or electricity is not obtainable.

For a small family one of the small ovens which fit one burner are great fuel savers. For a large family or general use they are not economical, but for one or two dishes, a tin of biscuits and a pie they are certainly worth the cost.

The vacuum cleaners now run by gasoline, which go from house to house, are a great boon to the over-worked house cleaner.

A Woman's Observations

By Edna K. Wooley.

Husband Is A Luxury, Too.

A Chicago Judge has ruled that a wife is a necessity, not a luxury. Once upon a time a wife was held to be a necessity and a man never left his life complete until he had found and annexed his other half. But the cynical attitude of the present has brought about an impression to the contrary.

We hear much today of the extravagant woman. The truth is that there are no more extravagant women today than in other days. There is more opportunity to be extravagant now, perhaps, and one can put on more of a "front" because of today's possibilities. But the average woman now spends no more, in comparison with the average man's income, than her great grandmother. She certainly doesn't get an extravagant table. We have no more pound cakes dripping with butter, no more angel food so full of eggs that it tastes like an angel, no more young spring chicken fried deep in butter, no more thick cream used indiscriminately, no more new milk baths for the face—such as many a farmer's daughter indulged in to improve her complexion; and like other luxuries.

True our ancestors didn't have so much variety in their clothing, but what they had "for best" was of fine quality and cost a pretty penny. Those of social importance imported expensive "stuffs" and a broadened gown of those good old days meant the expenditure of a small fortune. Women haven't changed so very much—not any more than men.

Consider the needs of the present-day man as compared with his great-grandfather's needs. He must have different shirts for every season and ever-changing style. The seasons bring changes in headgear which he must have. His socks are of silk, his shoes hobby, his ties the latest scream, and even though he patronized a tailor who guaranteed him a perfect fit for $15, he must have two or three suits of clothes in the year where the grandfather had one suit for best throughout his natural life and part of his son's life, while for common life wore what great-grandmother manufactured regardless of fit.

Applejack and a corned pipe were good enough for great-grandfather, but the young man of today dreads gold-band cigars and fancy drinks. And while great-grandfather took a bunch of home poses to his best girl, the young man of today considers his isn't properly impressing any young feminine person with his own importance unless he can hand her a bunch of violets when they're rated at 5 cents for each flower.

The trouble is that the present-day man is something of a luxury himself, and he wants to keep it up after marriage. Also, he wishes his wife to at least put on the appearance of being a luxury, no matter how little the wherewithal to that end, nor how often she may have to pull down the shades of their three-room apartment while she does the washing in the bathtub.

A good wife is really a man's best savings bank and balance wheel. If he has any other kind it's because he got just what he was looking for.

HOUSEHOLD TALKS

The basis for all bon-bons is made from the cooked fondant, or from the uncooked French cream. The first is unsatisfactory for the home candy maker, as it must be treated most carefully or it will granulate and if the weather is damp it will not cream. For these and other reasons the French cream candy is recommended, and there is nothing nicer than a box of home-made bon-bons to accompany the basket of goodies you are sending to the lonely neighbor in the apartment, or to tuck into a corner of the box for the homelick boarding school girl.

FRENCH CREAM BAHM—The white of one egg, unbeaten, added to an equal quantity of rich cream or milk and enough confectioner's (triple X) sugar, well sifted, to make a paste stiff enough to roll out like putty. When the egg, cream and sugar are well mixed, divide in as many parts as you want varieties, using rose, almond, lemon, orange and other flavors that suggest themselves. A few drops of cake coloring will give the violet, rose or pistachio shades to match the different flavors selected.

For nut cream, chop almonds, English walnuts, hickory or hazel nuts, and mix with the French cream, roll out three-quarters of an inch thick and cut into small squares with a sharp knife, or roll the base into balls and press a well shaped nut kernel on the top of each ball.

CHOCOLATE DROPS—Make the base and flavor it with peppermint or vanilla, shape each drop with the fingers and set to one side while you prepare the coating. For this cut natural unsweetened chocolate in bits and melt over hot water. Stick a toothpick in each "drop" and dip in this melted chocolate. Place on oiled paper until the coating is hard. It will dry hard and firm in a short time.

PEPPERMINT WAFERS—Wintergreen drops, coconut balls, coated with green and nut bars are a few more changes that suggest themselves and the candy-maker will think of others as she experiments with this accommodating and delicious foundation.

HONEY FUDGE—Three cups of lightest brown or maple sugar; molasses with cream and place in a sauce pan with two tablespoons of butter and one cup of strained honey. Cook carefully until it will form a soft ball in cold water, then add two tablespoons of natural chocolate or cocoa, dissolved. Cook three minutes longer.

and add one-half pound of marshmallows cut in halves, remove from the fire and cover with the marshmallows are melted. Flavor with vanilla, beat hard and steadily, until thick. Pour into buttered pans, and mark into squares. Fruit or nuts, or both may be added in the place of the marshmallows.

MOLASSES TAFFEE—Three cups of molasses, one cup of sugar, enough water to moisten and a pinch of soda. Cook until it snaps in cold water. Remove from the fire and add three tablespoons of vinegar and two of butter. Turn onto buttered pans. If popnuts or hickory nuts are added they should be put in after the mixture is removed from the fire.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

THE FOLKS WE DREAD TO TELL.

IN ALMOST every family there is some person whom all the others dread to tell when anything goes amiss.

Once in a while it is the mother; sometimes it is a domineering son or daughter; far more often it is the head of the house. A friend of mine fell and broke her arm. She says a middle-aged woman and was quite ill with the pain and shock. Her husband was absent at the time, and she decided not to let him know about the accident until his return. The day before he was to arrive she became so frightened at the thought of telling him that her fever went up to a dangerous pitch, she actually became delirious, and the nurse heard her murmur over and over again, "What will Harry say?"

Of course, the fall was entirely an accident—one does not break one's arm on purpose. And yet the thought of telling "himself" actually frightened the poor lady into a delirium.

This case is extreme, but it illustrates the queerest feature of the whole matter—that it is not only the things for which they are to blame but even the most palatable accidents which the other members of the family dread to tell to the fault-finding one. The expression, in spite of all warnings, comes a piece out of the hall paper; a neighbor's puppy digs up the newly planted flower-bed; the butcher sends up a bad piece of meat—surely for none of these things is the mistress of the house culpable, and yet her dread of telling him about the unfortunate accident clouds over her whole day.

Once upon a time there was a man who, although at heart a very kindly person, had gradually drifted into this attitude. One morning the housemaid broke an expensive vase, and as usual, his wife began to dread the terrible moment when she should have to tell HIM. She was not feeling very well and the dread wore on her nerves more than usual so that by night she was almost sick. As it happened, her husband was in a particularly good humor that evening, and when she finally summoned up courage to tell him, he said very pleasantly, "Well dear, that's too bad. You always liked that vase. Do you suppose I could find another one for you?" Thereupon, his wife, who had expected an entirely different response, actually burst into tears from sheer relief. Explanations followed, during which the husband, being a man of unusual perception, realized the attitude he had been taking, and solemnly resolved to be more reasonable in the future.

I doubt if any of these dreaded folks realize how much happiness they spoil. Oftentimes they are led into this attitude by their women folk's readiness to apologize and cringe in regard to any unfortunate happening. Tyrants of any sort, as I have often said, are partly other folks' fault.

Are you in the least degree such a tyrant?

Or are you doing anything to help make one?

PLANS PERFECTED TO HOLD BIG MEETING TUESDAY EVENING

Eagles Gathering Will Open With Address at Myers Theatre
By Prominent Men.

While the official convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, opens on Tuesday morning, June 18, the free street exhibits are to start their displays, the aeroplane will make its two flights and the horse races will be held at the Park Association track in the afternoon. Tuesday evening promises to be one of the most interesting programs for the general public.

The executive committee have arranged for a monster mass meeting at the Myers theatre at which the visiting delegates will be officially welcomed to Janesville by Mayor Fathner, the response in behalf of the local people, will be made by J. J. Cunningham and talks on the order will be made by Judge John C. Karel, of Milwaukee, Judge George P. Taylor, of Kenosha and Frank E. Herrick, of South Bend, Indiana. Worthy President of the national order of Eagles, in so much as Judge Karel of Milwaukee, is a possibility as a democratic nominee for Governor at the coming election, a former University athlete in the days when Wisconsin had a football team, and also just elected president of the state organization of Elks, his address will doubtless attract a large audience. Judge Taylor is also a fluent speaker and well known to members of the state bar. Mr. Herrick has a national reputation as an orator and will doubtless make a strong address.

This meeting is open to the public and they are most cordially invited to attend. It will be well worth listening to hear the speakers of the evening and a fitting opening of the three days' convention which will bring strangers from all parts of the state to Janesville.

Already work of decorating for the coming convention has begun and both the decorating firms that are competing for the privilege of the individual stores are trying to outdo the other, the result being that the city will never have looked as tasty for any visiting delegation. The stringing of the electric light arches and the street banners will be started shortly and they will add to the gaiety of the festival appearance.

The executive committee also plan for several free street shows to be given on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and early evening. These attractions are first class and will add to the enjoyment of the visitors. J. C. Nichols, Hugh Joyce and Fred Schmitt are the committee having charge of the street concessions. Already many applications for special street privileges have been made and assignment of positions will be made later.

On Tuesday afternoon the horse racing at the Park Association track will be the feature and the following purses have been hung up for the events:

Green class—pace or trot, best 3 in 5. Purses $50.
2:35 pace—3 in 5. Purses $100.
2:35 trot—3 in 5. Purses $100.
Free-for-all—Trot on pace, 3 in 5. Purses $100.

Wednesday the afternoon will be taken up by the big Eagles' parade and band concerts and later by the band contests for prizes at the Court House Park. Wednesday is the big day and with the street shows, the aeroplane flights and possibly exciting ball games in the morning there will be something doing every minute. It will also keep the crowd down town all day.

Thursday the afternoon will be devoted to auto and motor cycle races at the Park Association Track the following purses having been hung up for the various events.

35 mile race, stock cars, any price. Prize $150.
20 mile race, stock car, under $1,000. Prize $100.
10 mile race, stock car, under $1,000. Prize $50.
3 motorcycle races with prizes valued at $50.

WEST CENTER

SIDEWALK KETCHES.

THE STEAM ROLLER.

By Howard L. Rann.

The steam roller is a political traction engine which is used to convert a minority into a majority. It is never steamed up unless somebody is short in a few votes of controlling the convention, when it is brought out and run over the southern delegates in a reckless and fatal manner. This device is comparatively new. It was invented in 1808 by General Pitt-Rivers, who ran all four wheels over Joe Cannon's boom and flattened out several other worthy citizens who were hugging the ground with one ear. The first type of steam roller was a crude affair, but the 1912 model comes fully equipped, including a pilot driver attachment guaranteed to produce a committee on credentials which will seat every body who does not harbor any inartistic microbes. There are several forms of steam roller, but undoubtedly the most effective is that constructed for the use of the national committee. This machine is noiseless in operation and is generally steered by some ripe mathematician, who subtracts a sufficient number of contested delegates to make sure that the voter of the people will be heard in the roll call. If anybody objects to the grand total, he is confronted with a copy of the campaign text book and some timely remarks about Abraham Lincoln and the fall dinner pail. This year there are two determined and well-lubricated steam rollers in operation, each of which has spikes in its shoes. When they meet in the convention assembled somebody is going to be sorry that he forsook the hazelbrush and got out where people could ventilate his past life. If a candidate who has been run down by a steam roller regains his breath in time to cry "fraud" in bright brimstone accents, he can retire to another hall and run on an independent ticket. This is a dangerous procedure, however, as the November elections are liable to be purified by several first class funerals.

Reason for Tenderness.

Let us be silent as to each other's weaknesses, helpful, tolerant, may tender, towards each other. May we put away from us satire which scourges and the anger which brands; the oil and wine of the good Samaritan are of more avail. We may make the ideal a reason for contempt, but it is more beautiful to make it a reason for tenderness.—Audel.

DINNER STORIES

Former Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska found Marsa Henry Waterson in the Willard cafe the other day taking a "saunter" all by himself, according to the Washington Post.

ton correspondent of the New York World.

"Come over, John, and have a nip," said the famous editor, "John, tell me something. Where have all the editors gone the men who used to sway multitudes and lift audiences off their feet? There are only three of us left—myself, you and George Peck of Chicago."

"Why mention Peck?" asked Thurston; "he's not here."

At a Scotch dinner every one had contributed to the entertainment but Dr. MacDonald. "Come, come doctor," said the chairman, but the doctor protested: "My voice is altogether unmusical and resembles the sound caused by the act of rubbing a brick along the panels of a door."

The company attributed this to the doctor's modesty. "Very well," said he finally, "if you can stand it, I am willing." There was a painful silence as the doctor sat down, broken at length by the voice of a haw Scot at the end of the table, "Mon," he exclaimed, "your slinking's not up to much, but your veracity's just awful. You're right about that brick."

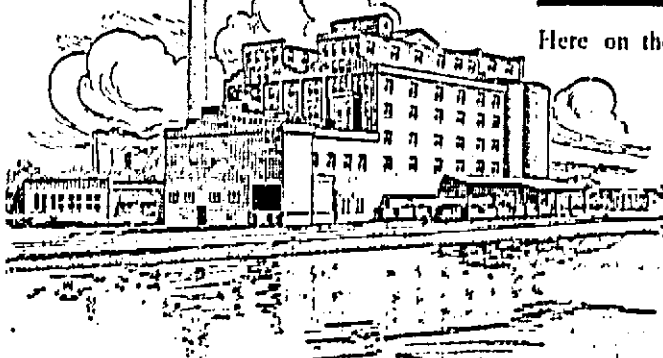

Dennis Flynn, while returning from work, took refuge under a tree during a thunder storm. The tree was struck by lightning and Dennis was blown some 20 feet away by the concussion and badly stunned. A neighbor found Dennis and began the work of resuscitation; another hurried to the home of Dennis to inform Mrs. Flynn of the accident. Mrs. Flynn listened with mingled terror and joy, and when told that her husband was not much hurt and would soon be home her pleasure was gratifying to behold. "An' Dennis was twenty fath away, did yez say?" "About that, yes," "Och, my Dennis always was quick on his feet," said Mrs. Flynn, with a proud shake of her head.

The Consumer Demands—
"LOWER COST"
The Pure Food Law Says—
"Produce Under Sanitary Conditions"

These two conditions have been met squarely and satisfactorily by the producers of Mex-O-Ja Coffee. The wonderful mechanical device used in packing Mex-O-Ja is controlled by the producers of Mex-O-Ja. It is an unique invention, and—

Does All This— Weighs a pound of coffee—16 ounces—always correctly. Makes the pound bag of especially constructed paper. Packs the coffee in the bag. Seals the bag of coffee. After the bag is sealed it is placed in the protector carton by the packer.

The Results Are— Cost of packing is cut in half. The cost compared with tin-can packing is 3 to 5 cents per pound lower. You save the difference—when you say Mex-O-Ja to the grocer. A sanitary package—keeps the berries fresh, clean and pure—and brings you a full pound of coffee, always. You get the benefit—when you say Mex-O-Ja to the grocer.

Address and mail your Jingles to Jingle Dept. 410, POSTUM CEREAL CO., LTD., BATTLE CREEK, MICH.

Use of above form of answer is suggested, but not required.

We will buy 50 Post Toasties Jingles, acceptable for use in a Jingle Book, received during June, 1912, at $20.00 each.

Only the Jingles we pay for will be used, but no Jingles, whether purchased or not, will be returned.

The names and addresses of the writers of the 50 Jingles purchased in June, 1912, will be printed and mailed to each enquirer who sends us a stamped and addressed envelope for return.

The Jingles will be judged honestly upon merit, so if you are a sensitive person and not a good sportsman, don't try, for we have no time to "put up" those whose Jingles are not accepted.

Fill in the missing line of the incomplete Jingle printed above, making the last line include the name of "Toasties," with correct rhyme and metre.

Or, write an original Post Toasties Jingle of not less than 4 lines, any one line of which must contain "Post Toasties" or "Toasties."

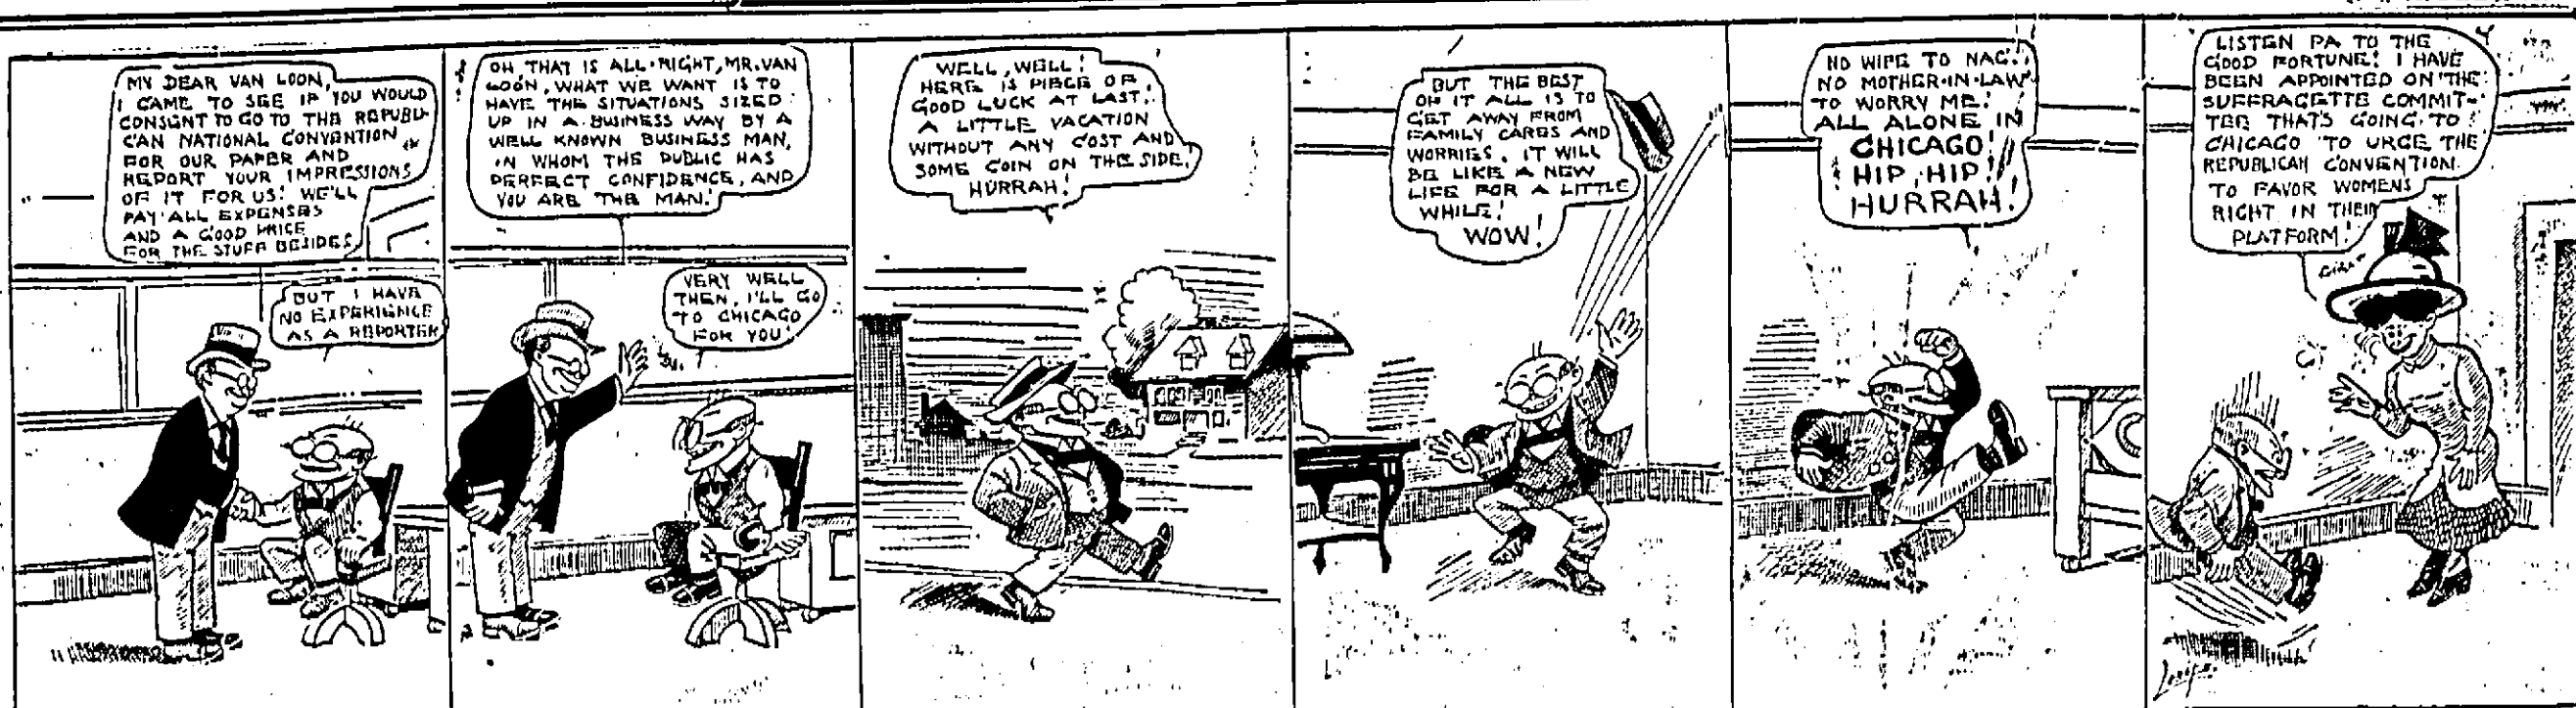

As many Jingles may be submitted as desired. No Jingle submitted in May, 1912, will be considered in this June, 1912, offer.

A GIRL OF THE LIMBERLOST

By
GENE STRATTON-PORTER

Copyright, 1909, by Doubleday, Page & Co.

"Edith," he cried, "just a word. I have been thinking. It isn't too late yet. Take your ring and put it on." I will go find Phil at once and tell him you have, that you are expecting him, and he will come."
"Think what he said!" she cried. "He accepted my decision as final! In the presence of witnesses! As if it were court. He can return it to me if I ever wear it again!"
"You think that now, but in a few days you will find that you feel very differently. Living a life of heartache is no joke and no job for a woman. Put on your ring and send me to tell him to come. I know Phil, and I know you want too far. Put on that ring and send him word you are sorry before it is too late."
"I will not! He shall come to me."
"Then God help you!" said Henderson, "for you are plunging into misery whose depth you do not dream."
"She swayed where she stood. Her maid opened the door and caught her. Henderson went down the hall and out to his car."

CHAPTER XXIII.
Wherein Edith Carr Experiences Regrets and Philip Returns to the Limberlost.

PHILIP AMMON walked from among his friends a humiliated and a wounded man. Dawn was near when he reached home, but the first floor was lighted. He staggered up the steps and was instantly admitted. The library door stood open, while his father sat with a book pretending to read. At Philip's entrance the father scarcely glanced up.

"Come on!" he called. "I have just told Banks to bring me a cup of coffee before I turn in. Have one with me!"

"Father," said Philip, "may I talk with you a little while?"

"Of course," answered Mr. Ammon. "I am not at all tired. I think I must have been waiting in the hope that you would come. I want no one's version of the thing, but yours. Tell me the straight of the thing, Phil."

Philip told all he knew, while his father sat in deep thought. "The friend for whom you wanted the moth is a girl?" he asked.

"The girl of whom I wrote you last summer and told you about in the fall. I helped her all the time I was away."

"Did Edith know of her?"

"I tried many times to tell her, to interest her, but she was so indifferent that it was insulting. She would not hear me."

"Who is this girl, just what is she doing and what is she like?"

Philip gave a man's version of the previous summer.

"You are very sure as to her refinement and education?" he asked.

"In almost two months' daily association could a man be mistaken? She can far and away beat Polly. Edith is any girl of our set on any common, high school or supplementary branch. She has the biggest, tenderest, most human heart I ever knew in a girl."

"The book leaves said rapidly through his fingers as the father drawled, "What sort of looking girl is she?"

"Tall as Edith, a little heavier, pink, even complexion, wide open blue gray eyes with heavy black brows and lashes so long they touch her cheeks. She has a rope of waving, shining hair that makes a real crown on her head, and it appears almost red in the light. She is as handsome as any fair woman I ever saw, but she doesn't know it."

"And you were in daily association two months with a girl like that! How about it, Phil?"

"If you mean did I trifle with her, no," cried Philip hotly. "I told her the second time I met her all about Edith. I never met any girl so downright noble in bearing and actions. I never loved anything as I loved leaving her, for we were dear friends, like two wholly congenial men."

"Yet you left such a girl and came back wholehearted to Edith Carr?"

"Surely! You know how it has been with me about Edith all my life."

"Yet the girl you picture is far her superior to an unprejudiced person, when thinking what a man would require in a wife to be happy."

"I never have thought what I would require to be happy. I only thought whether I could make Edith happy. I have been an idiot. What I've borne you'll never know. Tonight is only one of many outbursts like that, in varying and lesser degrees."

"Phil, I love you, when you say you have thought only of Edith. I happen to know that it is true. In some ways tonight would be a blessed release if you could take it; but you cannot. Go to bed now and get some rest. Tomorrow go back to her and fix it up."

"You heard what I said when I left her. I said it because something in my heart died a minute before that, and I realized that it was my love for Edith Carr. Sir, it is true that I have thought only of her up to the present. Now I will admit I am thinking about myself. Father, did you see her? Life is too short, and it can be too sweet to throw away in a battle with an un-restrained woman. I am no fighter—where a girl is concerned, anyway. Could you spare me a few days? I wonder if I could not hide at Uncle Ed's in Wisconsin for awhile?"

"Phil, are you sure of what you just have said?"

"Death cannot return to life, father. My love for Edith Carr is dead. I hope never to see her again. Let us not speak of it further."

"Then, Phil, the father leaned closer and looked at the son tenderly. "Phil, why don't you go to the Limberlost?"

"Father?"

"Why not? No one can comfort a hurt heart like a tender woman; and Phil, have you ever stopped to think that you may have a duty in the Limberlost if you are free? She might care to see you. You can soon tell."

A long time Philip Ammon sat in deep thought. At last he raised his head.

"Well, why not?" he said. "Years could make me no surer than I am now, and life is short. Please ask Banks to get me some coffee and toast, and I will bathe and dress so I can take the early train."

"Go to your bath. I will attend to your packing and everything. And Phil, if I were you I would leave no address."

"Not an address?" said Ammon.

"Not even for Polly."

"When the train pulled out the elder Ammon went home to find Hart Henderson waiting.

"Where is Phil?" he demanded.

"He did not feel like facing his friends at present, and I am just back from driving him to the station. He said he might go to St. Louis or Patagonia. He would leave no address."

Henderson almost staggered. "He's not gone—and left no address? You don't mean it! He'll never forgive her!"

"Never is a long time, Hart," said Mr. Ammon. "And it seems ever longer to those of us who are well acquainted with Phil. Last night was not the last straw. It was the whole straw stack. It crushed Phil so far as she is concerned."

Twice Henderson opened his lips to speak of Edith Carr's despair. Twice he looked into the stern, inflexible face of Mr. Ammon and could not betray her. He held out the ring.

"I have no instructions as to that," said the elder Ammon, drawing back. "Possibly Miss Carr would have it as a keepsake."

"I am sure not," said Henderson curtly.

"Then suppose you return it to me—cock. I will phone him. He will give you the price of it, and you might add it to the children's fresh air fund."

"As you choose," said Henderson. "Good morning!"

Then he went to his home, but he could not think of sleep. He ordered breakfast, but he could not eat. He paced the library for a time, but it was too small. Going out on the streets he walked until exhausted, then he called a hansom and was driven to his club. As he sauntered into the room an attendant hurried to him.

"You are wanted most urgently at the phone, Mr. Henderson," he said. "You have had three calls from Main 5770."

Henderson shivered as he picked down the receiver and gave the call.

"Is that you, Hart?" came Edith's voice.

"Yes."

"Did you find Phil?"

"No; he has been home and gone again."

"Gone?"

"The cry tore Henderson's heart. "Shall I come and tell you, Edith?"

"No. Tell me now."

"When I got to the house Banks said Mr. Ammon and Phil were out in the motor, so I waited. Mr. Ammon came back soon. Edith, are you alone?"

"Yes. Go on."

"Call your maid. I can't tell you until some one is with you."

"Tell me instantly!"

"Edith, he said he had been to the station. He said Phil had started to St. Louis or Patagonia, he didn't know which, and left no address. He said—"

Distinctly Henderson heard her fall. He set the buzzer ringing and in a few seconds heard voices, so he knew she had been found. Then he crept into a private den and shook with a hard, nervous chill.

The next day Edith Carr started on her trip to Europe. Henderson felt certain she hoped to meet Philip there. He was sure she would be disappointed, though he had no idea where Ammon could have gone. But after much thought he decided he would see Edith soonest by remaining at home, so he spent the summer in Chicago.

"Edith," said Mrs. Comstock, "there's some one coming down the road."

"Coming here, do you think?"

"Yes; coming here, I suspect."

Edith glanced quickly at her mother and then turned to the road as Philip Ammon reached the gate.

"Careful, mother," the girl instantly warned. "If you change your treatment of him a half a breath he will suspect. Come with me to meet him."

She dropped her work and sprang up. "Well, of all the delightful surprises!" she cried.

She was a trifle thinner than during the previous summer. On her face there was a more mature, patient look. He caught both hands where she offered but one.

"Edith," he cried, "if you were engaged to me and we were at a ball among hundreds where I offended you very much and didn't even know I had done anything and if I asked you before all of them to allow me to explain, to forgive me, to wait, would your face grow distorted and unfamiliar with anger? Would you drop my ring on the floor and insult me repeatedly? Oh, Edith, would you?"

Edith's big eyes seemed to leap, while her face grew very white. She wrenched away her hands.

"Hush, Phil, hush!" she protested. "That fever has you again! You are dreadfully ill. You don't know what you are saying."

"I am sleepless and exhausted; I'm heartless, but I am well as I ever was. Answer me, Edith, would you?"

"Answer nothing!" cried Mrs. Comstock. "Hang your coat there on your nail, Phil, and come split some kindling. Edith, clean away that stuff and set the table. Can't you see the boy is starved and tired? He's come home to rest and get a decent meal. Come on, Phil."

Mrs. Comstock marched away, and Ammon hung his coat in its old place and followed. Out of sight and hearing she turned on him.

"Do you call yourself a man or a hound?" she dared.

"Mrs. Comstock, I came here to ask Edith to marry me."
